

CORA CORA MALDIVES

Kick off your shoes, let your hair down and soak up the sunshine and sea air on white sand shores. Located in the Raa Atoll, one of the deepest in the Maldives, Cora Cora Maldives is surrounded by a calm 100-hectare lagoon, rich with vibrant corals, abundant marine life and lush vegetation. The beach and over water villas have expansive views of the Indian Ocean and the fantastic Premium All Inclusive experience ensures a super affordable, relaxed, fun and hassle-free holiday.

Note: The resort's swimming pools will undergo scheduled maintenance during the month of September 2025. While one pool is closed the other will remain open and guests will be offered a choice of complimentary vouchers as a gesture of goodwill.

Opening hours: 09h00 – 21h00

DUTCH ONION® MUSEUM AND OUTDOOR HERITAGE SITE

Peek into a time when Maamigili, the island on which Cora Cora Maldives stands, bustled and hustled with travellers who stopped by for different reasons. Ships sailed the Spice Routes, and the Raa Atoll was the ideal spot to stop, do a little trading, restock and wait for the weather and winds to turn in their favour. The unique Museum of Island Heritage in the centre of the island showcases findings dating back nearly a millennium, ancient memorials dating back 500 years, and perhaps the most extraordinary find on the island, two temple tanks thought to be around 900 years old. Visit the 120-year-old traditional Maldivian house, with displays of traditional island life in the 1900s. Excavations have revealed more than 60 remarkable finds and the resort has also sourced more than 400 fascinating relics from across the Maldives, which are on view at the Dutch Onion Art Gallery.
