

QUEEN VICTORIA

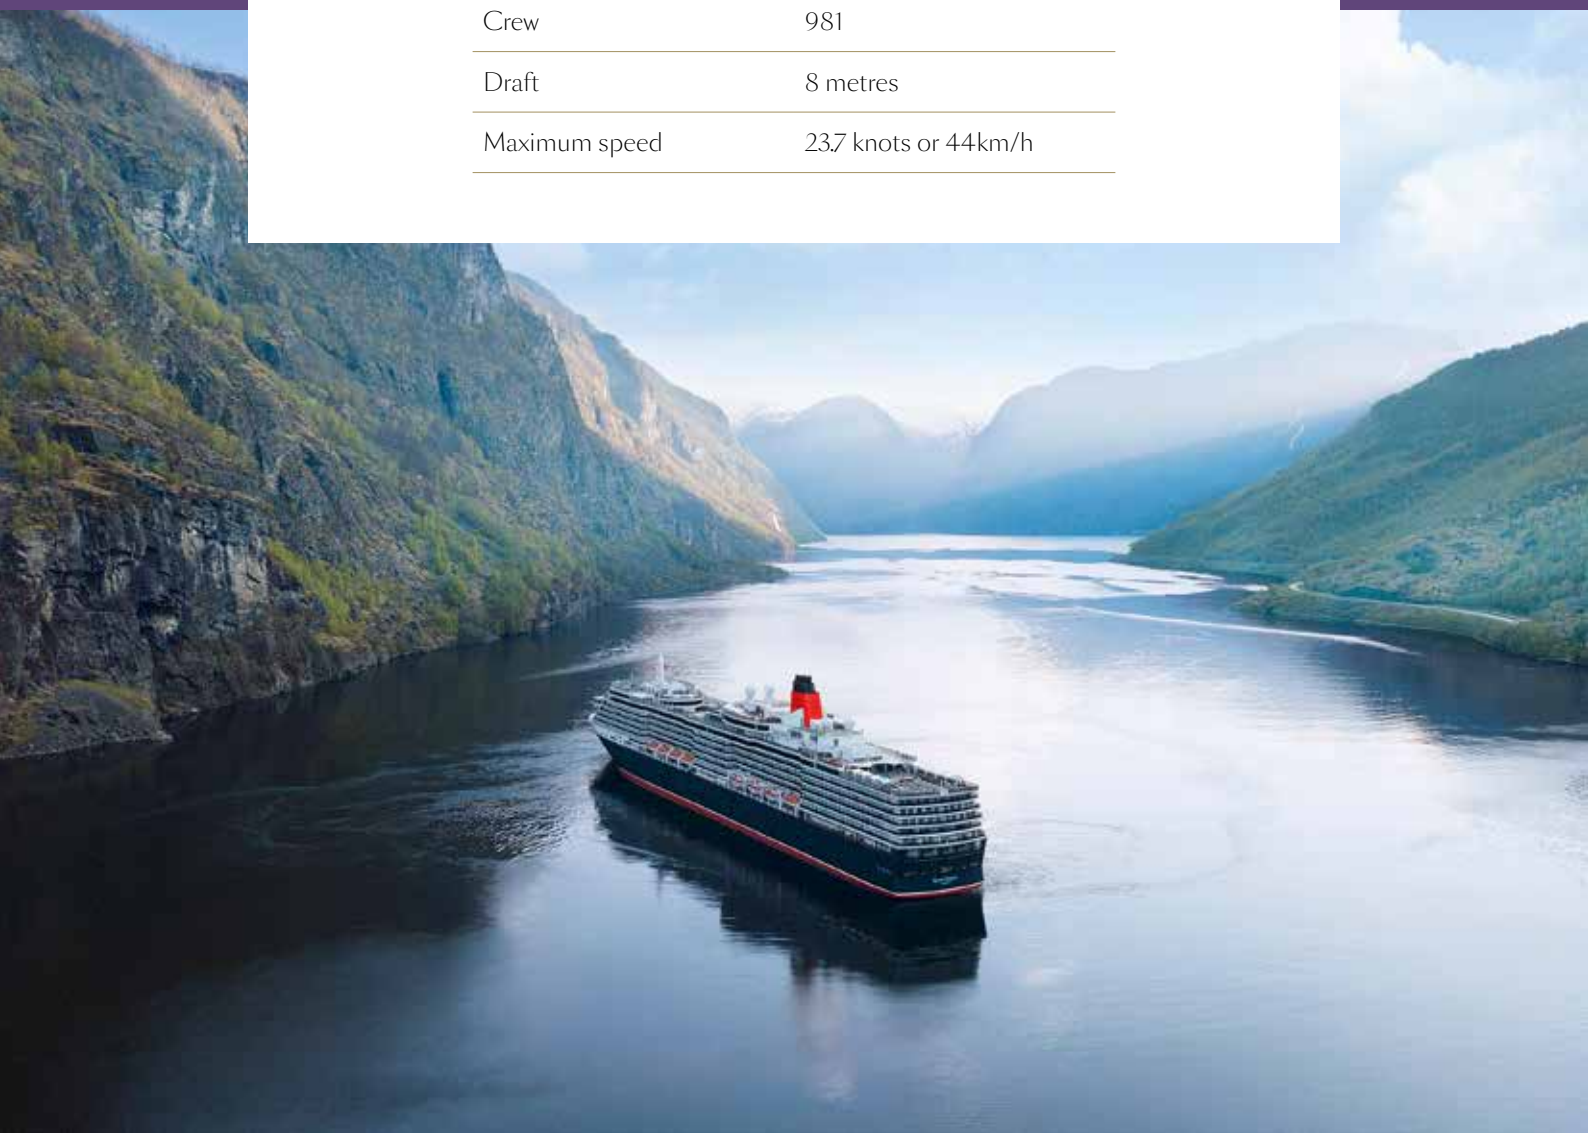

Queen Victoria is designed as a modern classic, reflecting Cunard's rich history, heritage, and tradition. It features grand public rooms, sweeping staircases, gleaming crystal chandeliers, intricate mosaics, rich wood panelling, and spacious open decks.

Her exciting on-board innovations include the first West End-style theatre boxes at sea, the first ocean-going two-storey library, and a grand colonial-style winter garden, complete with a retractable glass roof.

Grand Lobby

Queen Victoria features.

The ship has a total of 1,035 staterooms. There are nine different types of accommodation, with Grand Suites offering up to 144m² of space. The ship's six main suites are named after famous Cunard liners to have served the company during its 182-year history.

Guests embark via the impressive triple-height Grand Lobby where the focal point is a huge, bas-relief of the ship at sea. Queen Victoria's Queens Room hosts Cunard's famous Afternoon Tea, served by white-gloved waiters. This lavish ballroom also hosts elegant Gala Evenings.

Queen Victoria was the first ship to feature West End-style theatre boxes within its three-storey Royal Court Theatre, which can seat 800 guests. The library on board Queen Victoria spans two decks and is linked by a spiral staircase. Home to around 6,000 books, as well as journals and periodicals, the library also provides quiet places to read.

Outside, guests can enjoy open-air sports decks, with paddle tennis, deck quoits, shuffleboard, and two outdoor pools.

A voyage on board Queen Victoria allows guests to visit some of the most beautiful parts of the world, including a number of fly-cruise itineraries in the Mediterranean.

Pavilion Pool

Dining on board Queen Victoria.

Queen Victoria has four main formal dining rooms. The Queens Grill and Princess Grill restaurants offer the most exquisite food and service at sea, while the grand Britannia Restaurant reflects the classic golden age of ocean travel.

The Britannia Restaurant is where grandeur and occasion combine with exceptional service. The carriages of the Orient Express inspired the décor, and dining here always feels special, no matter what the meal. Beautifully presented dishes are offered with a selection of wines to complement your choice.

The Britannia Club restaurant is an elegant and luxurious room with an intimate dining club atmosphere.

The sophisticated and intimate Princess Grill restaurant serves up excellent cuisine. Our expert sommeliers are always on hand to guide guests through Cunard's renowned wine list.

Guests staying in our Queens Grill Suites have a table reserved in the world-renowned Queens Grill restaurant. Here, they will be greeted with a warm welcome before sitting down to the most exquisite dining experience at sea. The finest ingredients, prepared by the very best chefs, make every meal a culinary event all served with our exemplary White Star Service.

There is also the option to try one of Cunard's exceptional alternative dining options. 'Steakhouse at The Verandah' celebrates the best of land and sea, with prime ingredients sourced from both sides of the Atlantic. Selected for their provenance, steaks here are of the foremost quality, with the likes of buttery soft wagyu and flavoursome Black Angus beef seared to perfection.

Other dining options include:

- ◆ The Chart Room for pastries and light refreshments throughout the day, along with barista coffee.
- ◆ The Golden Lion pub, which serves traditional British gastropub lunches and dinners.
- ◆ The informal Lido Restaurant, which offers buffet-style breakfast, lunch, and dinner. It also features a cooked-to-order pizza bar and at night offers alternative dining venues.
- ◆ The Lido Grill for casual al fresco dining.

Royal Court Theatre

Bars and lounges.

During the day, the Chart Room serves light breakfast and lunch dishes, speciality teas, and illy coffee. As day turns to night, this elegant venue serves the perfect cocktail to begin your evening on board.

Queen Victoria's full-sized Royal Court Theatre is the setting for West End-style shows. While some evenings feature singers or comedians, on other nights you can catch an abridged classical drama or a spectacular musical.

Queen Victoria's Yacht Club is our nautical take on a nightclub, allowing guests to dance the night away, while the quizzes and karaoke nights in the Golden Lion always draw a lively, informal crowd.

Mareel Wellness & Beauty.

Inspired by the ocean and seamlessly blending natural beauty and timeless luxury, Cunard launched its own holistic spa concept, Mareel, co-created with wellness trailblazer Canyon Ranch.

Queen Victoria's full-sized Royal Court Theatre is the setting for West End-style shows. While some evenings feature singers or comedians, on other nights you can catch an abridged classical drama or a spectacular musical.

This luxury spa space is a sanctuary of calm where guests can soak up the transformational power of the oceans. The specialities offered by Mareel on board Queen Victoria include:

- ◆ A large thalassotherapy pool.
- ◆ A wellness suite for seaweed bathing rituals.
- ◆ A meditation room with acoustic resonance loungers.
- ◆ New sound therapy facilities in every treatment room.
- ◆ A reconfigured multifunctional fitness centre and studio space.
- ◆ A large gymnasium with floor to ceiling windows providing forward facing views.
